- Reflect on the potential usefulness of temporary architecture in a rapidly changing world.

AACA Competency: Design, Project Briefing 1.2; Conceptual Design 3.6; Detailed Design 5.5

- Assess the architectural opportunities and challenges presented by adaptive re-use projects in China.

AACA Competency: Design, Conceptual Design 3.2, 3.3; Schematic Design 4.2

FORMAL ASSESSMENT

- Describe one of the ways in which rapid urbanization is changing the needs of people living in cities across the Asia Pacific.
- What is one example of a context where temporary architecture might be preferable to something permanent?
- What are some of the challenges for architects working on adaptive re-use projects across borders?
- Describe the impact that the material raised in this session will have on your workplace.
- Identify a specific presentation that challenged you to think differently about contemporary architecture in the Asia Pacific.
- Were there any issues raised that you feel require further discussion or exploration?

NOTE:

Following completion of the symposium and when your attendance is verified by the platform's analytics, you will be emailed your attendance certificate(s). This is not an automated process, so please allow time for these to be issued. For delegates who will be viewing sessions on demand, after the live dates, certificates will not be issued until after 4 May 2021.
