A Social Agenda for Housing

May – August 2022

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Participants who attend A Social Agenda for Housing (Design Speaks Collection Season One 2022) will be able to:

- Describe the way architects are incorporating social agendas into residential architecture projects by responding to community and context.

AACA Competency: Project Initiation and Conceptual Design; PC26, PC29.

- Consider the way housing projects and residential architects can respond to crises, including economic recession, climate change and the COVID-19 pandemic.

AACA Competency: Project Initiation and Conceptual Design; PC18, PC25.

- Explain how the delivery of social housing in Australia has changed over the years in terms of architectural design and socio-political values.

AACA Competency: Project Initiation and Conceptual Design; PC24, PC34.

FORMAL ASSESSMENT

- How do the social and affordable housing projects presented respond to the needs of the residents and community?
- How does contemporary social housing differ from earlier periods?
- Describe one model of delivering affordable housing presented in this session. What are its strengths and disadvantages, if any?
- Describe the impact that the material raised in this session will have on your workplace and the future practise of architecture in Australia.
- Identify a specific presentation that challenged you to think differently about contemporary Australian architecture.
- Were there any issues raised that you feel require further discussion or exploration?

NOTE:

Attendance certificates will be issued via email from 15 August 2022 pending verification of your attendance by the platform's analytics. This is not an automated process, so please allow time for these to be issued.
